VOL. 13, NUMBER 307 MONESSEN, PA., THURSDAY, JUNE 10, 1915 SIX CENTS THE WEEK

Monessen Leads Outside Towns With Donations

Monessen stands far at the head of the list of towns contributing to the Belgian relief fund. Burgess A. G. Dunlap last night estimated that the Monessen check would approximate $4,400.00. The campaign was made here practically in two days. It was vigorous and generally waged and the money was mostly paid at the time the subscription was made. No movement for suffering humanity was ever so general among our people as the Belgian relief appeal, although contributions have been made to every worthy cause from the Galveston flood to the San Francisco earthquake and down to the submerging of Ohio towns. Not a worthy cause hase ever escaped the Monessen people.

This undoubtedly speaks well for a laboring town and a town that is at the present time carrying a heavy debt, municipal and otherwise. Few Monessen people have their homes free from debt and yet they are willing to give a portion of their earnings for those who are starving in war ridden countries. Many older towns practically free from debt will not make as good a showing as our town. When we think of our town compared with others. we can feel justly proud that our people are so unselfish and so willing to help.

A letter received this morning by the Independent from the headquarters in part follows:

"It gives us pleasure to tell you that Monessen leads all the outside communities in the Belgium relief canvass, and it would do your heart good to hear the cheers for Monessen and your good people when the figures are announced daily at the committe meeting. With very best wishes

Secretary Bryan Gives Reasons For Resigning

William Jennings Bryan has quit as secretary of state. He disagreed with President Wilson on international policies and stepped down and out. While Bryan might be right in his contention with this country's relations with Germany. it looks as if the present was not the time to play the baby act. Again Bryan is no hypocrite and if this country is to be tossed into the malstrom of the world's war, he could not satisfy himself to be a party to it. He would be talking peace from the public platform and signing war documents and directing the tide of conflict. And he says he couldn't play the game and be honest with himself and the American people.

William Jennings Bryan has been one of America's greatest peace advocates and in his own language his reasons for resigning are:

Why should an American citizen be permitted to involve his country in war by traveling upon a beligerent ship when he knows that the ship will pass through a danger zone?

The question is not whether an American citizen has a right under international law, to travel on a belligerent ship; the question is whether he ought not, out of consideration for his country if not for his own safety. avoid danger when avoidance is possible.

It is a very one sided citizenship that compels a gavernment to go to war over a citizen's rights and yet relieve the citizens of all obligations to consider his nation's welfare. I do not know just how far the President can legally go in actually preventing Americans from traveling on belligerent ships, but I believe the government should go as far as it can, and that in case of doubt it should give the benefit of the doubt to the government.

But even if the government could not legally prevent citizens from traveling on belligerent ships.it could.and in my judgment should. earnestly advise American citizens not to risk themselves or the peace of their country. and I have no doubt that these warnings would be heeded.

President Taft advised Americans to leave Mexico when insurrection broke out there, and President Wilson has repeated the advice. This advice. in my judgment. was eminently wise. and I think the same course should be followed in regard to warning Americans to keep off vessels subject to attack.

I think. too, that American passenger ships should be prohibited from carrying munition. The lives of passengers ought not to be endangered by cargoes of amunition, whether that danger comes from possible explosions within or from possible attacks from without. Passengers and ammunition should not travel together. The attempt to prevent American citizens from incurring these risks is entirely consistent with the efforts which our government is making to prevent attacks from submarines.

The use of one remedy does not exclude the use of the other. The most familiar illustration is to be found in the action taken by municipal authorities during a riot.

It is the duty of the mayor to suppress the mob and to prevent violence but he does not hesitate to warn citizens to keep off the streets during the riots. He does not question their right to use the streets. but for their own protection and in the interest of order. he warns them not to incur the risks involved in going upon the streets when men are shooting at each

A Trouble Repealer

Judging from the almost universal irritation caused by the new baggage valuation rule for travelers, it seems likely that one of the first acts of the next congress will be to repeal the Cummins amendment that started all the trouble. Aside from the needless annoyance to passengers of being required to sign a statement in every case of the value of their trunks' contents, the system is unjust. It compels passengers to pay insurance on declared values over $100, whether they want to or not, and regardless of whether they have already had the goods insured. The explanation from the Interstate Commerce Commission that they are not really compelled to admit more than $100 worth of baggage, if they are willing to forego all railroad liability beyond that amount, doesn't make the situation much more tolerable.

A new act of congress may not be needed, however. It is suggested that the provision in question is probably illegal, since it is interpreted as conferring insurance privileges on railroads, whose charters give them no right to engage in such business. Moreover, it is charged that the Interstate Commerce Commission, in making the present application of the Cummins provision, has gone beyond the intent of congress—that the amendment in question was only intended to cover freight shipments, doing away with the limited liability clause in bills of lading. If so, the courts can abolish this new checking system which the public finds so vexatious and expensive. They will doubtless have an opportunity, for there are plenty of citizens mad enough to go to law about it.

Damp Sleeping Quarters

If trustworthy statistics could be had of the number of persons who die each year or become permanently deceased, from sleeping in damp or cold beds, they would probably be astonishing and appalling. It is a peril that constantly besets traveling men, and if they are wise they will invariably insist on having their beds aired and dried, even at the risk of causing much trouble to their landlords. But, it is a peril that resides also in the home, and the cold "spare room" has slain its thousands of helpless guests, and will go on with its slaughter until people learn wisdom. Not only the guest, but the family often suffer the penalty of sleeping in cold rooms and chilling their bodies at a time when they need all their bodily heat, by getting between cold sheets. Even in warm weather a cold damp bed will get in its deadly work It is a needless peril and the neglect to provide dry rooms and beds has in it the elements of murder and suicide

Wild Horses Passing

The European war promises to mark the final passing of the wild horse of the range, the disappearance of the bucking broncho so long associated with the west. Even now there are no wild horses such as once roamed the ranges, and with the inroads being made upon the west by the war, his half civilized brother, the broncho, promises to disappear. Thousands of horses have been taken from Colorado, Wyoming and the western states. Not only have the British and French buyers invaded that section, but representatives of the Italian government have combed the country for months. During the last few weeks an Italian buyer purchased several hundred horses and so great was his haste to get them to his country that they were sent by express from Denver to the east instead of by freight. Then they were hurried aboard a steamer to Italy.

A New Way

The editor of an Illinois exchange is a public benefactor and when he dies the people of his country ought to erect a monument to the honor of his memory. He has discovered a new way to get rid of mosquitoes. He tells you to simply rub alum on your hands and face. When the mosquito takes a bite it puckers its gazoopie so it can't sting. Then it sits down in a damp place, tries to dig the pucker loose, catches its death of cold and dies of pneumonia.

After a whispered conversation the ceremony was performed. The sermon was never finished, for the affair was turned into a reception.

Building Church of Middle Ages

Philadelphia, Pa., June 10—The most unique church in America is under construction at Bryn Athyn, near Philadelphia. Not a nail or screw is being used, every part of the immense structure is being made by hand, and there are no straight lines in its architecture.

The work, in point of purity of Gothic design, will, when completed, outdo any similar building produced in the last five centuries. This reproduction of a mediaeval church will be known as the Church of the New Jerusalem, and will serve as the cathedral center for communicants of the Swedenborgian faith all over the world. It is the gift of John Pitcairn of the Pittsbergh Plate Glass company, and the architect is Ralph Adams Cram.

The novel feature of the structure is the complete absence of machine-made materials. Every part of the work is done by hand. Stone is quarried and cut right on the premises. No steel or iron, not even a nail, is to be found anywhere in the building. Wherever joining is necessary, wooden pins will be used. Plaster, also, has been prohibited—everything, in fact, of modern invention that could in any way destroy the ancient purity of construction. No two stones used in the construction are exactly alike. Every column is designed differently; windows differ in their tracings, every arch will have a distinctive characteristic.

Gently sweeping curves will take the place of straight lines in the construction. All will be done by free hand. The result as it is being formulated has aroused great interest among architects as a triumph which even the workmen of the Middle Ages could not surpass.

The new cathedral is 200 feet in length, and the heighth of the roof is 100 feet, with a central Gothic tower adding another 50 feet. The building was begun in 1913 and will not be completed before 1917. It will cost nearly $1,000,000.

MISSOURI WILL CONTEST INVOLVES $1,250,000

Salisbury, Mo., June 10—A will contest involving the disposition of $1,250,000, left by the late John Dorrance, a wealthy Missourian, will be resumed here today. Contestants are disputing the heirship of Charles F. Dorrance to the estate, on the grounds that the young man who is 24 years of age, is not the son of Dorrance, but was adopted from St. Anne's Asylum. Charles F. Dorrance, who has always been known as the son of the late millionaire, has already testified before a special master that he had known since 1907 that there was a cloud on his parentage. This he discovered when letters were found in the hotel room formerly occupied by his father in Keytesville, relating to the adoption of the foundling.

CHICAGO AROUSED OVER BABY MURDER SCANDAL

Chicago, June 10—The postponed inquest into the death of Mrs. Mollie Quinby, a widow, who died May 31 from the effects of a criminal operation, is set for today. Through the expose of secret burials, secret arrangements with undertakers, alleged graft paid to coroner's physicians, the police and a physician in the health commissioners' office, the city and federal prosecutors are taking a hand and a probe of the charges is under way. A postmortem examination of the body of Mrs. Quinby has been made, and the result will be made known at the inquest. Mrs. Quinby came here from Hammond, Ind., and the police of that city have been working with the Chicago police in an effort to sift her case to the bottom.

TWO BROTHERS MUST DIE TOMORROW

Abingdon, Va., June 10—James Canton and Yuther Canton, brothers, will be electrocuted tomorrow for the murder of Mrs. James R. Wilson. The younger brother James, was found guilty of murder in the first degree, despite the confession of the older brother that he attacked and murdered Mrs. Wilson. He stoutly denied that the younger brother took any part in the crime or had any knowledge of it, and, though facing death himself fought heroically to save his brother James from the same fate. The conviction and sentencing of the younger brother concluded the most sensational trial of its kind in the history of Virginia. A Trouble Repealer

Judging from the almost universal irritation caused by the new baggage valuation rule for travelers, it seems likely that one of the first acts of the next congress will be to repeal the Cummins amendment that started all the trouble. Aside from the needless annoyance to passengers of being required to sign a statement in every case of the value of their trunks' contents, the system is unjust. It compels passengers to pay insurance on declared values over $100, whether they want to or not, and regardless of whether they have already had the goods insured. The explanation from the Interstate Commerce Commission that they are not really compelled to admit more than $100 worth of baggage, if they are willing to forego all railroad liability beyond that amount, doesn't make the situation much more tolerable.

A new act of congress may not be needed, however. It is suggested that the provision in question is probably illegal, since it is interpreted as conferring insurance privileges on railroads, whose charters give them no right to engage in such business. Moreover, it is charged that the Interstate Commerce Commission, in making the present application of the Cummins provision, has gone beyond the intent of congress—that the amendment in question was only intended to cover freight shipments, doing away with the limited liability clause in bills of lading. If so, the courts can abolish this new checking system which the public finds so vexatious and expensive. They will doubtless have an opportunity, for there are plenty of citizens mad enough to go to law about it.

Damp Sleeping Quarters

If trustworthy statistics could be had of the number of persons who die each year or become permanently deceased, from sleeping in damp or cold beds, they would probably be astonishing and appalling. It is a peril that constantly besets traveling men, and if they are wise they will invariably insist on having their beds aired and dried, even at the risk of causing much trouble to their landlords. But, it is a peril that resides also in the home, and the cold "spare room" has slain its thousands of helpless guests, and will go on with its slaughter until people learn wisdom. Not only the guest, but the family often suffer the penalty of sleeping in cold rooms and chilling their bodies at a time when they need all their bodily heat, by getting between cold sheets. Even in warm weather a cold damp bed will get in its deadly work. It is a needless peril, and the neglect to provide dry rooms and beds has in it the elements of murder and suicide.

Wild Horses Passing

The European war promises to mark the final passing of the wild horse of the range, the disappearance of the bucking broncho so long associated with the west. Even now there are no wild horses such as once roamed the ranges, and with the inroads being made upon the west by the war, his half civilized brother, the broncho, promises to disappear. Thousands of horses have been taken from Colorado, Wyoming and the western states. Not only have the British and French buyers invaded that section, but representatives of the Italian government have combed the country for months. During the last few weeks an Italian buyer purchased several hundred horses and so great was his haste to get them to his country that they were sent by express from Denver to the east instead of by freight. Then they were hurried aboard a steamer to Italy.

A New Way

The editor of an Illinois exchange is a public benefactor and when he dies the people of his country ought to erect a monument to the honor of his memory. He has discovered a new way to get rid of mosquitoes. He tells you to simply rub alum on your hands and face. When the mosquito takes a bite it puckers its gazoopie so it can't sting. Then it sits down in a damp place, tries to dig the pucker loose, catches its death of cold and dies of pneumonia.

ODD BITS OF NEWS

Toledo, O.—Mrs. Henry Carr recently received a mysterious sealed packet which when opened proved to be twenty love letters sent to her by Robert Budlinger of Cleveland. The young man died recently, and believing Mrs. Carr to be still unmarried, provided in his will that the letters be returned to the writer.

Frederick, Md.—Rev. Geo. Whiteside, preaching a sermon on the subject "Take Unto Thyself a Wife," was interrupted by H. C. Rockwell and Miss Nellie Barger, who taking the preacher at his word, arose from their places in the congregation and marched down the aisle to the pulpit, where the young man requested the minister to marry them. After a whispered conversation the ceremony was performed. The sermon was never finished, for the affair was turned into a reception.

Ottawa, Can.—A bill has been introduced into the house of commons giving women nurses and all soldiers, whether 21 years old or not, the right to vote. It is likely to pass.

Perth Amboy, N. J.—Mr. and Mrs. McFarlans have 17 children. The husband thought it would be right to hire a housekeeper to help her. As soon as the housekeeper appeared, Mrs. McFarlans walked out and deserted the family. When arrested she said that she did not want anyone interfering with her work and would go back if the housekeeper was fired.

London, Eng. — When Lloyd George's billpasses, the government will control absolutely the sale of liquor in selected districts—areas where munitions of war are being made—including that dispensed in clubs and grocery stores. A commission under the chairmanship of Lord Dunedin will deal with the question of compensation to the liquor dealers for their losses.

New York City, N. Y.—Last Christmas Mrs. Sadie Brown hung up her stocking on the mantel, expecting her husband to place some little gift therein. On Christmas morning the stocking was empty. Unable to forgive the disappointment, she has sued for divorce.

Hazelton, Pa.—Jacob Getski, an armless man, has been arrested for beating his wife. Mayor James Harvey is wondering how the wife will prove her charge when the case comes to trial.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Building Church of Middle Ages

Philadelphia, Pa., June 10—The most unique church in America is under construction at Bryn Athyn, near Philadelphia. Not a nail or screw is being used, every part of the immense structure is being made by hand, and there are no straight lines in its architecture.

The work, in point of purity of Gothic design, will, when completed, outdo any similar building produced in the last five centuries. This reproduction of a mediaeval church will be known as the Church of the New Jerusalem, and will serve as the cathedral center for communicants of the Swedenborgian faith all over the world. It is the gift of John Pitcairn of the Pittsbergh Plate Glass company, and the architect is Ralph Adams Cram.

The novel feature of the structure is the complete absence of machine-made materials. Every part of the work is done by hand. Stone is quarried and cut right on the premises. No steel or iron, not even a nail, is to be found anywhere in the building. Wherever joining is necessary, wooden pins will be used. Plaster, also, has been prohibited—everything, in fact, of modern invention that could in any way destroy the ancient purity of construction. No two stones used in the construction are exactly alike. Every column is designed differently; windows differ in their tracings, every arch will have a distinctive characteristic.

Gently sweeping curves will take the place of straight lines in the construction. All will be done by free hand. The result as it is being formulated has aroused great interest among architects as a triumph which even the workmen of the Middle Ages could not surpass.

The new cathedral is 200 feet in length, and the heighth of the roof is 100 feet, with a central Gothic tower adding another 50 feet. The building was begun in 1913 and will not be completed before 1917. It will cost nearly $1,000,000.

WAR ON BASEBALL POOL

STARTS TODAY IN MINNESOTA

Minneapolis, Minn., June 10—The first prosecution in this section against the sale of baseball pool tickets comes up for trial today, when Charles Jordan'a saloon keeper will be arraigned for conducting a baseball lottery. According to the new police the Pool is backed and operated by a big gambling syndicate in Chicago and New York. Already a campaign against the baseball lottery men is under way in those cities and in other cities of the East. The heads of the big leagues have allied themselves with the authorities in an attempt to stamp out the big baseball pool. While it is known that small pools have been operated in every city during the baseball season, the tremendous business at present under way in this form of lottery has reached such limits that the city, state and federal authorities are bringing action.

Special Events At Eldora Park

Special events combined with the regularly booked weekly attractions will feature the Eldora park program within the next two weeks, in leading up to what will be made one of the best attractions ever held at the park on the Fourth of July.

Next week will begin with the regular Monday night dance to be held by Mrs. J. Jenkins of Monongahela. These dances are proving popular events. On Tuesday, Mrs. N. Greenberg will head a party of people from Charleroi and other points to visit at the park.

The first special event of the week will come in the dance of the Bachelor Girls' club of Charleroi on Wednesday night. Generally this event will be somewhat similar to the dance on June 9 of the Alpha Phi Beta fraternity.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Monessen lodge of Elks have issued invitations for a dance to be held on Thursday evening. This will be an interesting social event, the committee headed by Mrs. Grace Daniels having made active preparations for it. Friday night, John A. Weber of Finleyville, will give his regular Friday night dance.

The following week two events have been booked of interest. One of them will be that of the annual outing on Thursday of St. Jerome's Catholic church of Charleroi. Elaborate preparations are being made for this picnic. The day previous, Wednesday, June 23, the Parochial schools of Donora will hold their outing.

Y. L. H. A. Dance Tonight

The first of a series of summer dances that have been arranged by the Young Ladies Hebrew association of the Monongahela valley to be held in Elders park will take place this evening. The affair will be in the form of a novel dance and the committee has arranged to give favors to those who attend. The young ladies of this organization are well known for their capability of holding such events and the evening promises to be a very enjoyable one. Those on the committee are Misses Ida Hirsch, Paula Weinberger, Sara Rosenbloom and Sophie Cowan.

The President does not find justification in taking the action as stated. First, he does not feel justified, first in suggesting the submission of the controversy to investigation, or second, in warning the people not to incur the extra hazards in traveling on belligerent ships or on ships carrying ammunition. And he may be right in the position he has taken, but as a private citizen I am free to urge both of those propositions and sympathize in the hope of securing such an expression of public sentiment as will support the President in employing those remedies if in the future he finds it consistent with his sense of duty to favor them.

Suffragettes And Antis Almost Come Together

The suffrage question stirred Donora from center to circumference yesterday and might have wound up in a hair pulling match had it not been for several cool heads.

Miss Marie Watson, an ardent anti-suffrage leader, entertained at luncheon at the noon hour at the Donahue hotel. After a social hour, adjournment was made to the Elks' social rooms where a suffrage discussion was scheduled to take place. The suffrage adherents were loaded for the occasion with competent speakers, and the forces met, and it is said some heated arguments took place. It is said to have been as lively as any masculine pow wow ever held in the steel town. The question that still absorbs the minds of Donora voters is do we or do we not want the women to get cross at each other on account of the ballot? The meeting of yesterday was not wholly convincing that female politics will prove to be a good thing.

Mrs. Sarah Long Called By Death

Mrs. Sarah McClure Long of Forward township, died Tuesday morning, June 8th, at the home of Miss Ella Miller in Monongahela. On Wednesday of last week she celebrated her 71st birthday. her surviving children, J. E. Long of Forward township, Mrs. Samuel Cooper of Venetia and Wiliam of East Liverpool, O., being present.

Mrs. Long was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McClure of Forward township and had a number of friends in this city. She was the mother of S. K. Long, deceased, who formerly resided in this city and was manager of the Westmoreland Lumber Co. She was the widow of J. K. Long, and a faithful member of the Presbyterian church. The funeral was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church at Monongahela.

Many Improvements At Victrolia Store

Monessen will soon have an up-to-date phonograph display and demonstrating room when improvements are completed at the jewelry store of D. Krasik, formerly Raskin Bros., on Donner avenue. This firm has taken over the exclusive agency for the Victor and Victrolas in this territory and will receive all the new records each month in order to supply the big local trade.

Workmen are busily engaged erecting two sound proof booths in the rear of the store where the new records will be demonstrated. When the booths are finished, the room will present a neat appearance finished in mahogany. An opening date will probably be held during the first week of July, when the public will be invited to visit the establishment and inspect the improvements and hear the new records on the Victrolas.

Interest Continues

The enthusiasm still continues in the revival meetings being held by Bert Taylor and Mr. Rush at the United Brethren church. Mr. Taylor spoke last night to one of the best crowds which has been in attendance at the meetings. The music of the evening was especially pleasing. Miss Beckman and Mr. Rush brought a beautiful message in song in the duet which they sang, "His Name is Jesus." Mrs. Wheatley also sang.

The meetings for Sunday are now holding the special attention of those who are conducting the work. Mr. Taylor, being a mill man, desires to have a special meeting for the mill men, and in the afternoon of the coming Sabbath he will hold a meeting for men only. He intends to put forth his best effort to make this one of the best meetings of the campaign and it is hoped that all men who are interested in this work will not fail to invite their friends to attend this meeting.

The Male chorus under the direction of Prof. Davies will have full charge of the singing, rendering a number of special selections.
